

National Communications Manager Based in London or Leeds Excellent Salary + Benefits One of the UKs leading professional services companies is currently looking to recruit an accomplished and creative National Communications Manager. The company is the 7th largest accounting firm in the UK and is recognised as one of the most progressive and entrepreneurial in the country. This is a fantastic opportunity to enhance your communications career within a dynamic market leading business, as well a

read full article