

SQL Developer required with experience of using SQL for data querying, programming and creation of database objects as part of larger solutions - specifically Server 2005 including Visual Studio 2005 (BIDS) and SQL Server Management Studio for a leading financial services company. Working closely with the Systems Development Manager, SQL Developer will contribute to the direction of Business Intelligence, working on projects of all sizes across their lifecycle, but predominantly at the developme

read full article